

Lleida, October 2015

Great number of visits during Sorigué's participation in Municipalia

- The group saw a large influx of people in both of its stands, with visits from notable institutional representatives and delegates from Latin-American municipalities.
- Sorigué positively evaluates its participation in Municipalia where it has consolidated its presence in the service sector for large cities.
- At the fair the company presented the group's first transversal catalogue in which all its lines of business and strategic pillars are represented.

Sorigué participated, from the 13th to the 16th of October, in the 18th International Trade Fair, Municipalia, the most important biannual fair in the sector of Urban facilities and services, where there was a large influx of visitors to the fair's stands, among them such figures as Meritxell Borràs, Minister of the Interior of the Generalitat of Catalonia; Joan Reñé, president of the Diputació of Lleida; and, Àngel Ros, Mayor of Lleida. What is more, visits by various representatives of Latin-American municipalities, among other institutional figures, were received.

In Municipalia the group has positioned itself as a leader in the services sector for large cities and has shown its commitment to the development and application of environmentally sustainable techniques in materials for the city. In its exterior stand Sorigué carried out live demonstrations of technical asphalts. This space became one of the most visited of the fair and received praise from the public, who valued the opportunity to learn about the advantages of Sorigué's products directly from specialised technicians.

Also, among the activities that Sorigué held in Municipalia, of special note is the conference „Water quality and treatment. Applications and experience in Spain and Latin-America“, held by Andreu Iglesias, head of Engineering, Operation and Maintenance; and, Josep Serra, manager of Hydraulic Equipment in Sorigué. In this conference, which was attended by delegates from diverse Latin-American institutions, the company explained its extensive experience and knowledge of the water cycle.

During the four days of the fair, representatives of all the company's lines of business from the group's delegations in Catalonia, Balearics, Madrid, Andalucía and Aragon participated at both stands.

Valuation of Sorigué's participation in Municipalia

"We think our presence in Municipalia, where we have positioned ourselves and our products and services for the most important municipalities in the peninsula, has been very positive." Stated Sebastià Espinet, CEO Sorigué.

Sorigué

Sorigué is a solvent and dynamic business group, leader in the construction, services, technology and water engineering sectors with a clear commitment to innovation and a vocation for giving back to society.

Founded in 1964, it has its origins in the production of aggregates and treatment of asphalts. During these decades Sorigué has experienced continuous expansion that, together with the increase in business, human team and own means of production, has transformed into diversification into its sectors of activity.

In these 60 years, the group has been able to evolve, responding to the demands of the market, maintaining solvent relationships with its clients and suppliers which at the same time have permitted constant reinvestment in its technical and human resources.

Sorigué has developed an integrated business model, has delegations in the main Spanish cities and carries out its activities throughout the country. It has also carried out important projects at the international level.

More information:

Anna Garcia Sagué

anna.garcia@sorigue.com

673700368

Sol Ortega

s.ortega@sorigue.com

671 724960